To Whom It May Concern:

I had the privilege and the honor to work with Annie Parker who spoke at Atlantic Health System's Third Annual Hereditary Breast and Ovarian Cancer Symposium on May 16, 2015. Ms. Parker is truly a remarkable woman; she has transformed the tragedy in her life, which unfortunately is the story of many who carry a BRCA mutation, into a story of inspiration. I believe that her journey has helped others facing hereditary cancer to feel less alone and to offer them hope that one can rise above the circumstances that have been dealt to them.

Some of the participants of our May 16th event wrote in their program evaluations "Annie Parker's story is amazing. I saw the movie and was so touched and honored to be in the audience hearing her speak" and "Annie Parker is an amazing woman. Her strength and courage are admirable". She overwhelmingly received positive feedback from every single participant.

Ms. Parker is an eloquent speaker and there will likely not be a dry eye in the audience after her speech! She never gave up hope and she continues to inspire those around her to do the same. Her words have the power to prevent others from facing cancer and I hope she continues to share her story.

Sincerely,
